This is the latest installment in the thought leadership webinar series produced by Modernist Advisor. "At Modernist Advisor, we are challenging the status quo. We believe ensuring better retirement outcomes will result in new clients, additional assets under management and additional value to your business," said Jack Martin, Modernist Advisor developer, "Moreover, we are able to demonstrate how fiduciary advisors can deliver more Retirement Alpha to their clients."

"There's no doubt that annuities can solve many of the challenges faced by retirees. The puzzle has been that consumers, and advisors to a large extent, didn't understand where annuities fit or how to use them effectively," added Dave Vick, DBHC Executive Vice President.

Mike Dressander, President of Dressander BHC continued, "Today there are more client-centric annuities that can manage retirement risks like longevity and sequence of returns. There are also new technologies that can integrate annuities into the wealth management process while enhancing the client experience."
